1. Free Stuff!!!

Seriously. Free stuff. Giveaways. And it's for the books of any author, not just me.

Maybe I'm a slow learner, but I realized I get a bunch of coupons for free Audible audio books as an author. I've accumulated a lot of coupons. So...

I'm making them free to my subscriber list, which is you!

I haven't figured out yet how to automate this. So, we'll have to do this the manual way. Email me if you'd like a free Audible audiobook coupon. john@subthriller.com

Also, there's a free extra chapter to Rogue Avenger: <http://subthriller.com/freebies>

2. Audio Books Update

Paul Christy finished Rogue Goliath, which is available on Audible, iTunes, etc. We're also done with Rogue Hunter, which is going through its pre-production checks.

3. Rogue Kingdom

Book #11, Rogue Kingdom, is going through final checks before being published.

Watch your email for an announcement... it's coming next month.

While keeping the pace and the action you expect, I've hidden the identity and mission of the bad guys at the beginning and revealing clues as the story unfolds. As hinted in the prior newsletter, Iran will be a player in Rogue Kingdom. The action takes place around the Arabian Peninsula, and it happens within weeks after the Rogue Justice mission, creating the smallest temporal gap between stories.

4. US Navy Submarines Update

Since I dedicated the last newsletter to the Iranian submarine fleet, I didn't mention the commissioning of the USS Washington, SSN-787. The latest Virginia-class submarine joined the fleet in early October. Per my count, that's fourteen submarines of the class. It seems like yesterday the Virginia was a coming dream, but it's been thirteen years since its commissioning.
